Fantastic development opportunity! This charming period home, oozing with character is coupled with an expansive plot of listed/agricultural land, idyllically located in St Ouens.

The property dates back to the 16th/17th century and currently comprises of a large dressed granite farmhouse with out buildings including a barn, pig sties and stables. While the property indeed has a lot of character it has even more potential for future development and would be the perfect complete renovation project for someone with passion in restoring listed properties with original features.
